INTERLOCKING LOG CABINS

The Willow design is a variation of cabins with two angles. It is based on a traditional design from the low countries of Scandinavia. This cabin gives an alternative to fit into the land with an excellent view in one direction.

The Willow (living area 74.4 m² and built area 100 m²)

A surprisingly spacious cabin. The area is economically utilised and the angled lay-out provides good lighting. The kitchen offers good space and storage.
